Our theme celebrates the collaboration between PONZ & OSWANZ to deliver this conference by considering all the ways in which the cancer care community work together to deliver great outcomes for people with cancer and their whānau. We are now receiving abstracts for the 2023 conference with special consideration to topics that show kotahitanga, connection and collaboration in the pursuit of psycho-social wellbeing. The conference provides a unique opportunity for health professionals working with people impacted by cancer to share research, practice models and innovative projects. Preference will be given to abstracts that demonstrate an element of kotahitanga, collaboration and/ or connection in their design and / or delivery. The definition of these ideas is left to the author(s) to decide.

*You can present either a poster, or a short presentation between 10 - 20 mins long.
Successful presenters will be notified of the length of their presentation once all abstracts have been reviewed.*
